

1963 Iowa Master Farm Homemakers Guild Inductees

Marie Cornic - IMFH Class of 1963

Louisa County

Mr. and Mrs. Cornic own and operate "Green Pastures Farm" in Louisa County. They have one daughter, Mrs. Milos Karagin. There are three grandsons.

Mrs. Cornie has a long history of community service. She has taught a Sunday School class in the Presbyterian Church in Morning Sun for 28 consecutive years. She has served her church in many other capacities.

Mrs. Cornie has worked with extension programs in her county. She has served as a 4-H club leader and worked 4 years on the extension council, the last year as chairman.

Elma Frederick - IMFH Class of 1963

Cedar County

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick have recently moved to a 320-acre farm after having farmed in both Adams and Johnson counties. They have four grown children; Betty Jo (Mrs. Floyd Freerksen), Lake Forest, Illinois, Wayne, a soil scientist at Iowa City; Carl, who farms near Iowa City; and Bonnie (Mrs. Russell Bell) lives in Coralville, Iowa.

Mrs. Frederick has given years of faithful service to extension and Farm Bureau groups in Adams and Johnson Counties. And she is already at work in Cedar County where she will be chairman of the "World Understanding" committee for Farm Bureau.

She is chairman of the Johnson County 4-H club committee. She is an active member of Springdale Methodist Church.

Jean Pearson - IMFH Class of 1963

Hamilton County

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson own and operate a 320-acre farm specializing in turkeys and cattle. They have three sons. Jerry and Richard are both graduates of Iowa State. Alan is a senior in high school. There is one grandchild.

Mrs. Pearson has lived in this area all her life. The family is active in the Trinity Lutheran Church in Ellsworth where Mrs. Pearson has been a Sunday School teacher, president of Ladies' Aid, and a president of Lutheran Church Women.

In addition to church work, Mrs. Pearson has been active in school affairs, and with extension projects.

Mildred Schnekloth - IMFH Class of 1963

Scott County

Mrs. Schnekloth and her family farm 400 acres in Scott County. Their beautiful home is located on the original 160 acres that have been in the Schnekloth family for four generations.

Mr. and Mrs. Schnekloth have two children. John is a sophomore in high school and Doris is in eighth grade. Both are active in church, 4-H, and school affairs.

Mrs. Schnekloth has served on the Scott County extension council and has just completed 4 years on the county 4-H Girls' committee.

At present she is county music chairman for Farm Bureau women's organization.

The Schnekloth family is active in the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Davenport.

Mable Spear - IMFH Class of 1963

Warren County

Mrs. Spear and her husband live on the farm that has been in the family for over a century. The 320-acre farm is known as "Spear Angus Farm."

Mr. and Mrs. Spear have four children: Edith (Mrs. Merrill Henry), and Edna (Mrs. Larry Lester), live on farms in Warren county. Marvin farms with his father and Janice is a senior at ISU:

Mrs. Spear is a member of the Green Plains Methodist Church. She has held offices in the women's organization and takes her turn as church organist. She has worked with extension and belongs to a club that takes on charity projects. Mrs. Spear is historian of the Iowa Angus Auxiliary.

Mildred Warland - IMFH Class of 1963

Webster County

Mr. and Mrs. Warland own and operate 560 acres near Badger.

They have three children. Rex is working on his Ph.D. at ISU. Stephen is attending college at St. Olaf's. Betsy is in high school.

The Warland family has been active in the Lutheran Church in Badger where Mrs. Warland has been a Sunday School teacher and superintendent. Twice she has served as president of the American Conference of American Lutheran Church Women.

She has also worked and carried responsibility in various school projects. She has served on the Family Living Committee.